

European Journal of Legal Education

A new online, international, peer-reviewed, open access journal publishing high-quality, original research is to be launched on Friday 22 May 2020. The European Journal of Legal Education will publish articles on any aspect of legal education. It is the revived journal of the European Law Faculties Association.

The first issue contains the following articles:

- Stuart MacLennan: Teaching European Union Law after Brexit.
- Greta S Bosch: Deconstructing Myths about Interdisciplinarity - is now the time to rethink interdisciplinarity in legal education?
- Andreas R. Ziegler: How global should legal education be? Recommendations based on the compulsory teaching in international aspects taught at Swiss law schools.
- Nigel Duncan, Caroline Strevens, and Rachael Field: Resilience and student wellbeing in Higher Education: A theoretical basis for establishing law school responsibilities for helping our students to thrive.
- Daniel Barrow, Louise Glover, and Tamara Hervey: Pro Bono Develops Pericles and Plumbers: the roles of clinical legal education in contemporary European law schools.
- Mary Catherine Lucey: Creating Legal Writing Opportunities in the Digital Era.
